Minimally Invasive Therapy in Periodontics: The Art and Science of Saving Teeth

8 hour CE Lecture, Subject Code 690

The expression “the pendulum is swinging back” from replacing to saving teeth is often repeated, and yet the question remains: are we prepared to meet this challenge? While human ingenuity has risen to unprecedented heights with respect to the quality of surgical and prosthetic work geared towards replacing teeth, a healthy natural dentition remains a source of admiration, personal pride, and a reflection of overall wellbeing.

Minimally invasive therapy in the health sciences has been extensively documented in the literature since its introduction by Fitzpatrick and Wickham in the early 90’s. The field of periodontics has not remained foreign to these concepts and their applications: preparing radicular surfaces with confidence, tracing precise incisions, executing flap designs with minimal extensions, delivering biomaterials accurately and achieving passive wound edge approximation, are all part of a carefully choreographed therapeutic approach that ultimately benefits the patient. Less morbidity and higher probabilities of success in maintaining natural teeth are premeditated consequences derived from this novel approach.

This presentation will showcase the rationale behind minimally invasive procedures in periodontal therapy by illustrating clinical cases in a wide scope of applications pertaining to the daily workflow in periodontal treatment.

Southern Academy of Periodontology is designated as an Approved PACE Program Provider by the Academy of General Dentistry. The formal continuing education programs of this program provider are accepted by AGD for Fellowship, Mastership and membership maintenance credit. Approval does not imply acceptance by a state or provincial board of dentistry or AGD endorsement. The current term of approval extends from 3/1/2018 to 2/28/2022. Provider ID# 374030

Objectives:

1. Review the historic background in regenerative periodontal therapy and minimally invasive procedures.
2. Understand the physiologic events that take place and the anatomical features that frame regenerative healing in periodontal therapy.
3. Identify common mistakes made during regenerative procedures.
4. Adapt mechanisms to implement post-operative protocols for the short- and long-term success of regenerative periodontal therapy.
5. Differentiate the financial benefits of maintaining natural teeth in comparison to their replacement.
